

Toxic and harmful plants FOR CATS

Some common household and garden plants can be toxic to cats if ingested. Lilies, in particular, are extremely dangerous and can cause kidney failure even in small amounts. Other plants to watch out for include chrysanthemums, peace lilies, pothos, philodendrons, aloe, certain types of ivy, and more. It's a good idea to check that your plants are safe—or keep potentially harmful ones well out of reach.
